A HAND THAT SHARES THE START OF A PROMISE

The Journey of Life-Giving Seeds, Backed by Science. A hand reaching out with seeds is not just sharing grain - it's sharing faith, strengthened by agri-scientific innovation. For the last 20 years, Dhanlaxmi has given scientifically selected seeds with this belief - that growth starts with giving. We began as a small company driven by a strong purpose - to help farmers grow better using research-backed solutions. This first hand-to-hand connection started a long journey of trust, care, and scientific support.

SOWING DREAMS IN THE LAP OF SOIL

Supported by Testing, Trials & Technology
The farmer gently places the seed into the earth - it's more than farming, it's planting a future rooted in science. Dhanlaxmi understands this deep emotion and supports it with seeds developed through lab testing, field trials, and climate adaptability studies. We work with both vegetables and field crops, providing choices that are scientifically optimized. With every seed sown, we join the farmer's journey - from bare land to green fields.

ROOTED IN WISDOM POWERED BY TRUST

Strong roots are the base of strong growth.

What you don't see is as important as what you do. Roots of trust and technology grow in silence - holding everything together. Our seeds are backed by traditional farming wisdom combined with biotechnology and agronomy. Through hybrid breeding, disease resistance techniques, and scientific precision, we deliver seeds that take deep roots - just like our commitment to every farmer.

SHOOTS OF TRUST DESIGNED FOR EVERY FIELD

Researched for Real Fields, Not Just Labs

Every shoot is a signal - that the seed is alive and growing strong. Dhanlaxmi designs seeds using soil testing data, weather analysis, and adaptive breeding. Each seed is tested for performance across varied geographies. That's why our seeds grow well across India's many regions. This is where innovation becomes visible, and hope breaks the surface.

LEAVES OF HOPE

Clean in Growth, Clear in Process

Leaves are nature's sign of purity - they open only when the plant is healthy, honest, and whole. At Dhanlaxmi, this purity is assured through certified labs, quality checks, and transparent production processes. From R&D to farm-ready packaging, we maintain scientific rigor and ethical integrity. Just like leaves stay clean and open to light, our processes remain clean, open, and farmer-focused.

BRANCHES OF PROGRESS DHANLAXMI'S GROWING PRESENCE IN INDIA & BEYOND.

Experience

1500+
Dealers

Expanding with Infrastructure, Evolving with Technology

A small plant is now a growing tree - just like Dhanlaxmi's journey. We started in one place, and now have C&F centers, modern warehouses, seed conditioning units, and R&D labs across India. With presence in 9 states, 1500+ dealers, and scientific facilities, we are ready to grow further. But like a tree that never forgets its root, we stay connected to our farmers and their real needs.

FLOWERS OF HOPE- GROWTH YOU CAN SEE

The Bloom of Measured Success

When hard work bears fruit, joy blossoms.

A blooming field is the farmer's pride. It proves that everything - from genetic purity to field performance - has worked in sync. Dhanlaxmi seeds show visible results, backed by trials, yield data, and farmer feedback. The smiles on the farmer's face, the food in their home - these are the flowers of our shared scientific and emotional effort.

THE HARVEST BECAUSE EVERY SEED TELLS A STORY

A Story of Science, Soil, and Season

The journey is complete - the promise fulfilled.

The harvest is not just the end - it's the result of a well-researched cycle. The seed that began in one hand is now grain in two full palms, backed by science at every stage - from selection to germination to harvest. Our journey with the farmer doesn't stop here - it begins again with every season, every new breakthrough. Because every seed carries a story - and we are proud to grow it with science, soul, and soil.

WITH US, RESPONSIBILITY GROWS WITH EVERY SEED

At Dhanlaxmi Seeds, we don't just sell seeds—we cultivate trust, care, and long-term partnerships with farmers. Corporate Social Responsibility is at the core of everything we do, driving us to make a real difference in the communities we serve.

Every day, our team works closely with farmers—sharing knowledge, providing high-quality seeds, and promoting sustainable practices that strengthen crops and livelihoods. By combining research, innovation, and traditional wisdom, we empower rural communities to thrive.

For us, CSR is not just a responsibility—it is our commitment. Growing crops and nurturing communities go hand in hand, and we take that responsibility to heart every single day.

GROWING THROUGH INNOVATION

A small idea can spark big change—especially when backed by science and care. In our journey with farmers, innovation isn't just about new tools or advanced labs; it's about creating simple, effective solutions that truly help on the ground.

We focus on developing better seeds through biotechnology and research that match India's changing climate and soil needs. While we're not bound by CSR laws, our everyday work uplifts lives—quietly, consistently.

Whether it's a farmer trying a new crop or learning a smarter technique, every breakthrough begins with belief. And that belief in progress—rooted in trust and technology—is what keeps us moving forward, together.

SEEDS OF PRECISION OUR MANUFACTURING POWERHOUSE

Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited has its main manufacturing and seed processing center in Himatnagar, Gujarat, on the Shamlaji Highway. This place is spread over 16 acres and includes a big research farm, seed processing machines, & a large greenhouse.

Here, we develop and test new seeds. We grow different types of crops, check how they perform in different regions, and choose the best ones for farmers. Only after passing all tests do the seeds go for packing.

Our machines can clean, sort, treat, and pack up to 20,000 metric tonnes of seed every year. We make sure each seed is strong, pure, and ready to grow well in the field. Our labs also test seeds carefully before they are sent out.

We make and supply seeds for many crops like cotton, maize, bajra, mustard, castor, wheat, moong, & cumin. These seeds are made to suit Indian farms and weather.

Everything we do is for our farmers. We want their crops to grow well, their work to feel lighter, and their future to shine brighter. With good seeds and honest efforts, we're standing with every farming family, every step of the way.

THE ROOTS BENEATH OUR GROWTH

Strong crops need strong soil. Strong companies need strong people.

At Dhanlaxmi Crop Science, it's not just seeds that make us grow—it's people. The heart of everything we do is our team, and at the core of that team is leadership that's hands-on, humble, and full of heart.

Our founder, Mr. Kamleshkumar Patel, started this journey in 2005 with one simple belief: farmers deserve better. Walking beside him are Mr. Alpeshbhai, Mr. Pankaj, and Mr. Meet Patel, who bring energy, focus, and day-to-day direction to our mission.

Guiding our numbers and ensuring we stay grounded financially is Ms. Pooja Vimal Dave, our CFO—sharp, steady, and quietly powerful.

And then there is Dr. Fula Bhila Patil, whose remarkable 50 years of experience in research have shaped not just our company, but the seed industry at large. As a valued member of numerous advisory committees, he has contributed to national and international policy-making in the field of seeds. His wisdom, built on decades of hands-on work, continues to guide our mission with vision, credibility, and purpose.

Together, this team doesn't just run a company. They nurture its spirit, protect its purpose, and shape the future—one good seed, one good decision, and one good heart at a time.

LOOKING AHEAD: SOWING THE SEEDS OF TOMORROW

We don't just grow crops. We grow trust, relationships, and hope-season after season.

As we step into FY 2025, our journey continues with steady steps and strong belief. Last year was encouraging-our revenue grew by 37%, and profit rose by 55%. But beyond the numbers, what makes us truly proud is how many more farmers we reached and how many better harvests we helped grow.

We're expanding our portfolio-not just cotton, but also wheat, bajra, maize, cumin, and vegetables. Our seeds are crafted to suit the different climates and soils of India, because we know no two farms are the same.

Our research team is always learning and evolving. By combining age-old farming wisdom with modern technology, we're developing seeds that are strong, resilient, and dependable.

After becoming a public company in December 2024, we are putting the IPO funds to good use-supporting our people, improving our systems, building our brand, and planning smartly for the future.

At Dhanlaxmi, we believe growth is a shared journey-with farmers, partners, and everyone who believes in the power of a good seed. And together, we're just getting started.

Management Discussion & Analysis Report

Global Economy:-

The global economy is navigating a phase of heightened uncertainty, with growth projections softening and macro-economic pressures intensifying. The World Bank, in its June 2025 update, has revised its global GDP growth forecast for 2025 to 2.3%, significantly lower than its earlier estimate of 2.7%¹. This adjustment reflects the weakest expansion since the 2008 financial crisis, excluding pandemic-related contractions. Notably, the deceleration is broad-based, with over 60% of emerging economies projected to register slower-than-expected growth, indicating a widespread economic slowdown¹.

Inflationary pressures, while easing from prior highs, remain persistent. The World Bank estimates global inflation at approximately 2.9%, with core inflation in the U.S. (PCE) hovering around 2.6%, suggesting that underlying price pressures continue to weigh on policy decisions¹. In response, the U.S. Federal Reserve has maintained a cautious stance, holding interest rates steady while citing slowing GDP growth (around 1.4%), rising job losses, and inflation risks. The Fed has signalled potential rate cuts later in 2025, contingent on further signs of easing inflation².

Trade dynamics have emerged as a renewed source of strain. A brewing tariff standoff between the U.S. and China has resulted in a sharp escalation of trade barriers, with average tariff rates rising from 2.5% pre-2017 to over 15% currently³. This protectionist environment has curtailed global trade flows and dampened investor sentiment. According to the World Bank, resolving key trade disputes—such as halving existing tariff rates—could add an estimated 20 basis points to global GDP growth over the 2025–26 period^{3,4}, underscoring the economic potential of policy realignment.

Geopolitical instability, particularly in the Middle East, continues to exert pressure on global markets. Heightened tensions between Israel and Iran have led to increased volatility in energy prices, with Brent crude prices rising 18% since June 10, currently trading around $80 per barrel. Analysts suggest a potential spike to $100–130 should disruptions to oil supply chains materialize, which could further complicate the inflation trajectory and energy affordability across regions².

The near-term global outlook remains fragile and uneven. While recession risks are currently contained, persistent inflation, tighter financial conditions, rising geopolitical risks, and elevated trade barriers continue to cloud the trajectory for global growth. The projected rebound for 2026 remains modest, with the World Bank forecasting continued 2.3% growth if current dynamics persist¹. Policy clarity on trade, measured monetary easing, and geopolitical de-escalation will be crucial for supporting macroeconomic stability and enabling a more sustainable recovery.

Indian Economy

India continues to stand out as the world’s fastest-growing major economy, supported by resilient domestic demand, prudent macro-economic management and a focused push on capital expenditure and structural reforms. The International Monetary Fund (IMF), in its April 2025 update, projects India’s GDP to grow at 6.2% in 2025 and 6.3% in 2026, reinforcing its leadership among large economies¹.

The World Bank, in its January 2025 Global Economic Prospects, echoes this optimism, forecasting a steady growth rate of 6.7% for FY26 and FY27, placing India well ahead of its global peers². On the domestic front, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) estimates real GDP growth at 6.5% for FY2025–26, with quarterly growth expected to range between 6.3% and 6.7%, citing a balanced risk outlook³.

As per the Ministry of Finance’s Macro-Economic Framework Statement, FY2024–25 witnessed real GDP growth of 6.4%, while nominal GDP growth reached 9.7%. The government expects nominal growth to improve to 10.1% in FY26, underpinned by improved revenue collections, stable inflation, and continued public investment⁴.

Inflation has remained under control, allowing monetary policy flexibility. The Harmonised Index of Consumer Prices (HICP) for April–May 2025 stood at approximately 3.2%, well within the RBI’s comfort band of 4% ± 2%. CPI inflation is projected at 3.7% for FY2025–26, though risks from global supply-side disruptions remain⁵.

India continues to exhibit fiscal prudence while scaling up capital spending. In the FY2025–26 Budget, capital expenditure is pegged at Rs. 11.21 Lakh Crore, accounting for 3.1% of GDP. Simultaneously, the fiscal deficit target is narrowed to 4.4% of GDP, and the public debt-to-GDP ratio is expected to fall to 56.1%, reflecting a consolidated path to fiscal sustainability⁵.

Even amidst global challenges, India’s outlook remains favourable. The World Bank, in its June 2025 Global Economic Prospects, maintains a GDP growth forecast of 6.3% for FY2025–26, while also cautioning against potential external shocks such as global trade disruptions and commodity price volatility⁶.

India’s near- to medium-term outlook remains robust. With GDP growth forecast in the 6.3–6.7% range through FY2026–27, the economy is expected to continue outpacing global peers. A combination of strong macroeconomic fundamentals, a contained inflationary environment, and the government’s commitment to infrastructure and fiscal reform supports this momentum. However, continued vigilance is essential, as global risks—including energy price shocks, trade tensions, and geopolitical instability—could test the country’s external resilience. Ensuring broad-based growth, sustaining investor confidence, and pushing forward structural reforms will be key to unlocking India’s full growth potential.

Agricultural Industry

India's agricultural sector is undergoing a fundamental transformation, driven by a combination of policy momentum, public investment, and strategic crop realignments. As a cornerstone of the economy—contributing around 18% to the Gross Value Added (GVA) and supporting over 40% of the population—the sector plays a pivotal role in India's food security, rural employment, and macro-economic stability. Since 2013, agricultural budget allocations have increased five-fold, underscoring the government's long-term commitment to the sector¹. The FY2025–26 Union Budget continued this trend by raising total outlays for agriculture and allied sectors to Rs. 1.71 Lakh crore—a 15% increase over the previous year—marking the biggest jump in six years².

To reduce import dependency and strengthen domestic supply chains, the government launched two flagship initiatives in FY2025–26. First, a six-year pulses programme aims to guarantee minimum support price (MSP) procurement for crops like pigeon peas and red lentils, addressing a Rs. 5,000 crore import bill³. Second, renewed focus on cotton through enhanced R&D, input subsidies, and support infrastructure—including fertilizer plants—is intended to restore India's competitiveness as a net exporter⁴. These initiatives are a part of broader structural reforms that aim to align the cropping pattern with nutritional needs, water efficiency, and market demand.

In parallel, climate-smart agriculture has taken centre stage. A World Bank-supported programme is helping India scale adaptive practices using AI, remote sensing, weather data, and satellite mapping to enhance productivity while conserving natural resources⁵. Recognizing the importance of stable input costs and farmer income, the government has also expanded its food and fertilizer subsidy commitments by 8% to Rs. 4.1 Lakh crore for FY2025–26—ensuring support for over 80 crore people through PDS and input affordability⁶. Together, these measures are laying the ground work for a more resilient and future-ready agricultural ecosystem.

On the production front, the 2024–25 Kharif season saw record food grain output of 1,663.9 Lakh metric tonnes (LMT), with rice contributing 1,206.8 LMT, maize 248.1 LMT, and pulses 137.5 LMT. Oilseeds also performed strongly, with groundnut output at an all-time high of 104.3 LMT⁷. States like Uttar Pradesh are leveraging World Bank-backed projects such as UP AGREES (Rs. 4,000 crore) to expand cultivation of maize and oilseeds while improving irrigation through farm ponds⁸. Similarly, the Rabi season delivered solid gains, with food grain output reaching 1,645.3 LMT, including a record 1,154.3 LMT of wheat⁹. These achievements were reinforced by MSPs that ensured farmers earned a minimum 50% return over production costs¹⁰.

The crop economics is also shifting. Maize has become increasingly attractive to farmers due to its high returns (Rs. 2,500/quintal), lower water needs, and government-backed MSP of Rs. 2,225/quintal for 2024–25. In Uttar Pradesh, the state aims to double maize production by 2027¹¹. This reflects a broader trend of rebalancing crop portfolios toward high-value, climate-resilient varieties such as pulses, millets, and oilseeds. These changes are further supported by digital tools, farmer collectives, and post-harvest value chain infrastructure.

Looking ahead, India's agricultural growth trajectory appears promising. According to McKinsey, the Agri-GDP could rise from USD 580 billion in 2024 to USD 1 trillion in a base case—and up to USD 1.4 trillion in an aggressive case—by 2035. This transformation will be powered by 15–40% yield gains through better seeds, precision inputs, technology adoption, and processing infrastructure¹². With sustained policy support, institutional capital, and digital innovation, India's agriculture is well positioned to evolve from a subsistence-based safety net into a market-linked growth engine—one that supports income growth, export potential, and climate adaptation at scale.

Seed Industry

India's seed industry in FY25 is at a pivotal juncture, driven by significant policy push, public R&D output, and strategic infrastructure support. Already among the top five global seed markets by value and volume, India is also the second-largest producer of agricultural seeds in Asia after China. With a vast agro-climatic diversity and one of the highest cropped areas globally, India plays a crucial role in supplying seeds not only for domestic use but also for growing export markets in Asia, Africa, and Latin America. The Union Budget 2024–25 marked a landmark move with the launch of the National Mission on High-Yielding Seeds, aimed at developing and distributing over 100 new seed varieties tailored to regional and climatic needs. This mission intends to strengthen the seed ecosystem through targeted funding for public and private research institutions, and by building robust linkages between seed producers and farmer groups—a critical step towards enhancing yield potential and resilience in agriculture¹.

To complement varietal improvement, the government has implemented notable MSP (Minimum Support Price) increases for both Kharif and Rabi crops in FY25, particularly in oilseeds and pulses, which are key targets for seed modernization. For instance, groundnut MSP was raised by ₹527/quintal, and mustard by ₹300/quintal, alongside hikes in crops like bajra, ragi, masur, and gram. These measures not only improve farm profitability but also act as an incentive for farmers to adopt higher-quality seed varieties^{2 3}.

Supporting this transformation is the Sub-Mission on Seeds and Planting Material (SMSP), which has made significant progress over the past decade. The program has enabled the creation of over 6.85 lakh seed villages and facilitated the production of 1,649 lakh quintals of quality seed across cereals, pulses, and oilseeds. This momentum continues in FY25, under the new seed mission, to scale up seed replacement rates and improve access in underserved regions⁴.

On the R&D front, the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) released 109 new seed varieties in FY24, directly supporting the seed pipeline for the 2024–25 cropping seasons. These include high yielding, disease-resistant, and climate-resilient varieties across major crops such as rice, wheat, maize, pulses, and horticulture, strengthening adaptability across India's diverse agro-climatic zones⁵.

To reduce dependence on edible oil imports, the government is actively promoting oilseed expansion through seed-based interventions. These include support for intercropping, promotion of high-yielding varieties, and cultivation in rice fallow areas, combined with financial and input incentives. This is expected to significantly enhance the demand for certified seeds in crops like mustard, sunflower, and soybean⁶.

In line with India's leadership in millet cultivation, the government has scaled up investment in coarse grain seed systems. Under the ICAR millet initiative, 25 seed hubs have been established to distribute certified seed varieties of bajra, ragi, jowar, and related crops. These hubs also provide training, trials, and research support to improve millet productivity and resilience⁷.

Further, the government is bolstering the seed supply chain under the Agriculture Infrastructure Fund (AIF). As of FY25, over Rs. 52,738 crore has been sanctioned across 87,500+ projects, with many focused on seed storage, processing units, and cold chain logistics. This enhances seed quality preservation and broadens availability across regions⁸.

With strong government commitment across policy, pricing, research, and infrastructure, the Indian seed industry is poised for an accelerated growth trajectory in FY25. India's position as a global seed hub is being reinforced by investments in varietal innovation, climate resilience, and modern storage infrastructure. Rising seed replacement rates, increasing export potential, and deeper private-public sector collaboration are likely to drive India's transition from a seed self-sufficient nation to a seed innovation and supply powerhouse for emerging markets.

Cotton Industry

India's cotton sector, a cornerstone of the rural economy and the textile industry, is undergoing a strategic transformation to address longstanding productivity gaps while strengthening its global position. India continues to lead the world in cotton acreage, accounting for the largest area under cultivation and nearly 24% of global cotton production¹. Despite this scale, India ranks only 36th globally in terms of yield per hectare, which has drawn attention to the need for focused reforms to improve output efficiency².

Recognizing this, the Government of India has launched a major intervention: a five-year Cotton Productivity Enhancement Mission, with a budgetary allocation of Rs. 5,272 crore³. The mission targets yield improvement, especially for Extra Long Staple (ELS) varieties, by promoting High-Density Planting Systems (HDPS), improved mechanization, integrated pest management, and deployment of compact BT-cotton hybrids⁴. These agronomic upgrades aim to bring India's average productivity closer to global levels while ensuring better returns for farmers.

To enhance India's image in global cotton trade, the government has also rolled out the Kasturi Cotton Bharat initiative, which serves as a premium branding campaign for Indian cotton. Through this, the government is ensuring standardized ginning, contamination control, and QR-code based traceability to elevate India's cotton quality to international benchmarks^{5,6}. This brand identity will help differentiate Indian cotton in global markets and increase export competitiveness.

At the grassroots level, the government's procurement operations have been robust. In FY2024–25 (up to December), the Cotton Corporation of India (CCI) procured 42 lakh bales valued at ₹16,215 crore, directly benefiting over 7.75 lakh farmers⁷. The procurement process has been digitized and made transparent through Aadhaar authentication, SMS-based updates, and NACH-based direct bank transfers, ensuring fair price realization at the farmer level.

Additionally, the Cotton Advisory Board (CAB) and the Committee on Cotton Production and Consumption (COCP) have indicated that the domestic cotton supply is stable, with no major concerns on availability for the textile sector^{8,9}. This balance ensures that India's textile value chain—spanning spinning, weaving, and garments—can plan production without facing raw material bottlenecks.

Overall, India's cotton sector is now backed by a multi-pronged policy framework—spanning productivity enhancement, quality assurance, farmer support, and global market positioning. These initiatives are expected to not only raise farmer incomes and reduce yield gaps but also to position India as a globally trusted source of high-quality cotton, catering to both domestic and export markets.

Company Overview in FY25, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited's core crop portfolio—comprising cotton, maize, bajra, wheat, gram, vegetables, and other field crops—continued to demonstrate resilience and strategic depth amid industry challenges. While cotton faced sectorial headwinds, it remained a key revenue contributor. Maize posted impressive growth of 31% in value, respectively. The company's Non-Cotton segment now accounts for nearly 12% of the revenue, reinforcing Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited's successful diversification strategy and its ability to adapt to evolving agronomic and market demands.

Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited operates at the confluence of rising food and nutritional security imperatives in India, playing a critical role in enabling the nation's transition to sustainable, high-yield agriculture. With over two decades of experience, the company has developed a robust ecosystem encompassing R&D, farmer engagement, and seed innovation. Its offerings, particularly in cotton, have shown strong performance in ICAR trials, aligning well with the government's push for climate-resilient and productivity-enhancing agriculture under various national missions.

Cotton Segment:- Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited has strategically positioned itself within this crucial agri-sector. In FY25, the cotton segment witnessed headwinds due to Kharif 2024 uncertainty and market disruptions caused by illegal HTBT seed distribution. Despite this, the company maintained 114 Crore sales from cotton, aided by hybrid offerings like ZCH-545 & ZCH 547 and continued farmer awareness campaigns.

The cotton industry continues to face structural challenges, notably the unauthorized proliferation of herbicide-tolerant BT (HTBT) cotton, which has not been approved by regulatory authorities. Farmers are attracted to HTBT due to reduced weeding costs and convenience, but the unregulated spread of these seeds poses serious risks, including environmental contamination, loss of trait purity, and erosion of trust in certified seed systems. Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited has actively collaborated with industry bodies and policymakers to address the issue, reinforcing the importance of regulatory enforcement and legitimate BT cotton adoption. Additionally, the company has emphasized education on the implications of illegal seeds, supporting efforts to restore market discipline.

Product Pipeline and Innovation Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited is currently developing next-generation cotton hybrids designed for higher yields, enhanced pest resistance (particularly against pink bollworm and sucking pests), and adaptability across varied agro-climatic zones. Key traits include medium-to-large boll size, wider adaptability, ease of harvesting, and yield superiority. These innovations are expected to strengthen the company's leadership in the cotton segment over the coming years, especially as policy shifts begin to favour robust quality control and certified seed use.

Others the 'Others' segment, which includes maize, mustard, bajra, gram, and wheat etc., saw strong operational gains. In FY25, maize posted a robust 31% YoY growth, while wheat increased 39.65%. The NC (Non-Cotton) portfolio Decreased from 23.37% to 11.78% of revenue, reflecting the company's diversification focus.

Financial Overview in FY25, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited recorded total revenue of Rs. 12,930 Lakhs, marking a 102.95% growth as compared to last year. Gross profit rose 16.13% Compared to last year to Rs. 1172.87 Lakhs. EBITDA stood at 1237.40 Lakhs, though the EBITDA margin moderated slightly high as compare to last year. PAT (excluding extra-ordinary items) grew 85.53% i.e. of Rs. 867.97 Lakhs as compared to last year. Notably, profits from core business operations improved, reflecting operational efficiency despite external headwinds in cotton. With healthy operating cash flows, stable finance costs, and tight receivable control, the company exited FY25 with a resilient financial profile.

Company Outlook Looking forward, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited is sharpening its focus on high-margin and high-growth segments—particularly vegetables, maize, and hybrid paddy—while maintaining strength in its cotton leadership through innovation and advocacy. FY26 will emphasize scaling its R&D capabilities, while exploring further opportunities to expand national sales. With robust fundamentals, sustained product innovation, and a strategically diversified portfolio, the company is well-positioned to capitalize on rising global and domestic demand for resilient seed solutions.

Infrastructure Operating modern processing units, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited minimizes capex while maintaining operational flexibility. Seed processing capabilities across multiple states enhance geographic resilience. Rigorous quality assurance protocols, including ELISA-based genetic purity tests and ISTA-compliant testing, ensure seed viability and safety—a corner stone in India's seed quality regulation framework.

Research and Development with 16.5 acres dedicated to R&D, the company contributes significantly to India's agricultural innovation agenda. Its investments in trait-specific germ plasm and biotic/abiotic stress-resilient hybrids support national priorities on climate adaptation and farm productivity.

Seed Production With seed production across more than 3000 acres and support from over 1000 growers, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited has built a scalable, climate-resilient supply base. The company's production model aligns with the government's goal of strengthening domestic seed production to reduce reliance on imports.

Elaborate Seed Processing Facilities Modern equipment and stringent quality protocols ensure top tier seed output, supporting India's quality certification and traceability standards. The company's decentralized presence enables faster distribution and ensures seed viability across regions.

Diversified Distribution Network with a distribution footprint across 5 States and 1100+distributors, Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited is positioned to deliver resilient supply chains. National expansion into India to be a well-known seeds supplier.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial control system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matter

The Company was converted from a Private Limited Company to a Public Limited Company with effect from 15th September, 2023. The Company has filed its Red Herring Prospectus (RHP) for listing on the NSE SME Platform. The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) has approved the listing, and the Company has been listed on the NSE SME Platform with effect from 16th December, 2024.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

"Annexure B" to the Independent Auditors' Report of even date on the Financial Statements of Dhanlaxmi Crop Science Limited

(Referred to in paragraph 2 (f) under 'Report on other legal and regulatory requirements' section of our report to the Members of DHANLAXMI CROP SCIENCE LIMITED of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of DHANLAXMI CROP SCIENCE LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Responsibility of Management and Those Charged with Governance for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that,

- (1) Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (2) Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and

- (3) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the AS financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

On 16th December, 2024 the equity shares of the Company have been listed on the SME Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited.

1(B) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

i) Basis of Preparation

- These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India ('Indian GAAP') to comply with the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value.
- The financial statements have been prepared on the assumption that the Company is a going concern and will continue its operations for the foreseeable future.
- The financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee (₹) which is the functional currency of the Company. All amounts are rounded to two decimal places to the nearest Lakhs, unless otherwise stated."

ii) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expense during the year. Examples of such estimates include provisions for doubtful receivables, provision for income taxes, the useful lives of depreciable Property, Plant and Equipment and provision for impairment. Future results could differ due to changes in these estimates and the difference between the actual result and the estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialise.

iii) Property, Plant and Equipment (including Capital Work-in-Progress)

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be recognized as an asset if, and only if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost of acquisition or construction, less accumulated depreciation / amortisation. Costs include all expenses incurred to bring the asset to its present location and condition.

Capital Work-in-Progress represents Property, plant and equipment that are not ready for their intended use as at the reporting date."

iv) Depreciation / amortisation

In respect of Property, Plant and Equipment (other than freehold land and capital work-in-progress) acquired during the year, depreciation/amortisation is charged on a straight line basis so as to write-off the cost of the assets over the useful lives.

The management's estimate of useful lives is in accordance with Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 are as follows:

Type of Assets	Period
Buildings	30 Years
Plant and Equipment	15 Years
Furniture and Fixtures	10 Years
Vehicles	8 Years
Office equipment	5 Years
Computers	3 Years
Licences and Franchise	5 Years

v) Leases

Assets taken on lease by the Company in its capacity as lessee, where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance lease. Such a lease is capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is recognised for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor, are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis.

vi) Impairment

At the end of each reporting period, the management reviews the carrying amounts of its assets included in each cash generating unit to determine whether there is any indication that those assets were impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of impairment. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Reversal of impairment loss is recognised as income in the statement of profit and loss.

vii) Investments

Long-term investments and current maturities of long-term investments are stated at cost, less provision for other than temporary diminution in value. Current investments, except for current maturities of long-term investments, comprising investments in mutual funds, government securities and bonds are stated at the lower of cost and fair value.

viii) Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of products is recognized when the Company satisfies a performance obligation in accordance with the provisions of the contract with the customer. This is achieved when control of the product has been transferred to the customer, which is generally determined when title, ownership, risk of obsolescence and loss pass to the customer and the Company has the present right to payment. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of returns and allowances, trade discount and volume rebates, and goods and service tax.

Dividend is recorded when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

Rent on immovable properties is recognised on accrual basis as per the agreement with the party.

ix) Taxation

Current income tax expense comprises taxes on income from operations in India and in foreign jurisdictions. Income tax payable in India is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Tax expense relating to foreign operations is determined in accordance with tax laws applicable in countries where such operations are domiciled.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of adjustment of future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax after the tax holiday period. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with it will fructify.

Deferred tax expense or benefit is recognised on timing differences being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and is likely to reverse in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

The Company offsets deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities if it has a legally enforceable right and these relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing taxation laws.

x) Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities other than net investments in non-integral foreign operations are translated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date and exchange gains and losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Exchange difference arising on a monetary item that, in substance, forms part of an enterprise's net investments in a non-integral foreign operation are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve.

xi) Inventories

Inventories consist of raw materials, packing materials, and finished goods. Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value (NRV). Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales.

Cost is determined on Standard cost basis.

Cost of raw materials and packing materials includes cost of purchases and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost finished goods includes direct materials, labor and proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity, wherever applicable. The cost of finished goods includes other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition."

xii) Provisions, Contingent liabilities and Contingent assets

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits and compensated absences) are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are not recognised in the financial statements. A contingent asset is neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial statements.

xiii) Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments, which are readily convertible into known amount of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and having original maturities of twelve months or less from the date of purchase, to be cash equivalents.

xiv) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

xv) Employee Benefits

a) Short-term benefits

Short-term benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

b) Defined contribution plans

The Company makes defined contributions to the Government Employee Provident Fund, which is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, on an accrual basis. The Company recognizes contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expense when an employee renders the related service. The Company has no obligation other than the contribution payable to the provident fund.

c) Defined benefit plans

The Company's liabilities under The Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 are determined on the basis of actuarial valuation made at the end of each financial year using the projected unit credit method.

The Gratuity obligation is unfunded. Obligation is measured at the present value of estimated future cash flows using a discounted rate that is determined by reference to market yields at the Balance Sheet date on Government bonds, where the terms of the Government bonds are consistent with the estimated terms of the defined benefit obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the defined benefit obligation. This cost is included in the 'Employee benefits expense' in the Statement of Profit and Loss.
